Survey: Children's rights during the war in Ukraine

The Centre for Children's Rights at Queen's University Belfast is working with Terre des hommes, a leading children's aid organisation, to gather the views and experiences of children and young people on their rights during the full-scale war in Ukraine, which started in February 2022.

- If you are from Ukraine and aged between 8 and 17 years old, please help us by completing this questionnaire. It should only take 20 minutes to complete.
- We will use the information you and other children give us to make a report that we will present to decision makers and governments all around the world.
- The questionnaire is anonymous which means we do not need to know your name but we will keep all information you provide locked away securely.
- If you decide to take part, you will need to click the box below to let us know you agree that we can use your responses in the report and other events like training, seminars and academic conferences.
- It is best to do the questionnaire on your own but you can get a trusted adult to help you if you need their help.
- If you have any questions, please talk to the social worker or other specialist from the organisation that contacted you about this survey.
- Any information you give us will be confidential.
- You don't have to answer any question you don't want to and you can stop your involvement at any time, no questions asked.

Thank you for your help!
